

All good swings must come to an end: Auburn falls in historic Super Regional at Plainsman Park

BY ELLA WALTON · LAST UPDATED JUNE 9, 2025

Reading time: 4 minutes

32

32
SHARE

Coastal Carolina faces off against the Auburn Tigers in the second day of the 2025 Super Regional. (Ella Walton / The Bama Buzz)

Advertisement

Last weekend was the first time in program history that the Super Regional was held at Plainsman Park, with Tiger fans + Coastal Carolina fans alike showing up/showing out for the interesting 'change of base' in the postseason.

On Saturday afternoon, the No. 4 Auburn Tigers suffered a disappointing 4-1 defeat at the hands of No. 13 Coastal Carolina, following a 7-6 loss to Coastal Carolina in a 10-inning game the night prior.

Despite the loss, the Tigers' season was a record-breaking one to remember. Keep reading to learn more about the Super Regional + record attendance!

Advertisement

Tigers go down swinging in NCAA Super Regional games

National Baseball Hall of Famer Frank Thomas' statue stands in front of W. James Samford Stadium. (Ella Walton / The Bama Buzz)

After two losses to Coastal Carolina, the Tigers wrapped up the season 41-20 + bid a final farewell to seniors Cooper McMurray, Parker Carlson, Samuel Dutton, Carson Myers + Ike Irish.

Advertisement

“The players gave us everything for an entire year, and the coaches probably could do two or three different things. I always feel that way if we don’t get the result that we want, but the guys battled hard, and this will fuel us, hopefully, to reset something and to try to strive for consistency.”

~ Butch Thompson, Auburn Tigers Head Coach

Although Coastal Carolina’s sweep was a “batter” pill for Auburn fans to swallow, fans can look forward to the team’s upcoming talent + renewed drive to succeed as Tigers return to the field next season.

“I absolutely tip the hat to Coastal Carolina. Just a great run and a great season for our guys. Some of the young players helped us. Our leadership was great. I talked to our guys about a mantra this year, go M.A.D. (make a difference), and they did. They made a difference for me and our fans. As you could tell this year, they endeared themselves to amazing fans.”

~ Butch Thompson, Auburn Tigers Head Coach

Advertisement

Coastal Carolina will now head to the Men’s College World Series (MCWS) for the second time, where they’ll play at Charles Schwab Field in Omaha, Neb.

Record attendance right off the bat

Tigers' fans file into Plainsman Park to watch the second game of the Super Regional on June 7, 2025. (Ella Walton / The Bama Buzz)

Advertisement

This past season, as the Auburn Tigers clawed their way to the No. 4 spot, the numbers of fans in attendance at the newly renovated Plainsman Park swung to all-time highs.

The park's renovation included:

- New premium club spaces
- An expansion of general admission spaces
- Expanded student viewing access
- State-of-the-art sound system
- Two new park entrances
- Improved concessions
 - Soda-refill stations (unlimited refills/same-game)
 - Expanded menus with healthy options
 - An increase in concession stands

Advertisement

Opening Day at the park, when the Tigers faced off against Holy Cross, the attendance record was broken with 5,718 fans making their way into the stands.

On Friday, June 6, fans flooded the stands + knocked ticket sales out of the park once more with 7,891 in total attendance. As tickets were quick to sell out, many even supported the Tigers from the stadium parking deck on Auburn University's campus.

The four levels of the deck was a sight to be seen with fans cheering amid foldout chairs, coolers + open tailgates.

Advertisement

Auburn fans cheer on their baseball team from the parking deck overlooking Plainsman Park on June 7, 2025. (Ella Walton / The Bama Buzz)

For the Tigers' second face-off against Coastal Carolina on Saturday, June 7, attendance dipped slightly to 7,841 – but still marked the second highest attendance record in the park.

history.

Want more like this in your inbox? Subscribe to our free newsletter to keep up with Alabama's buzziest news!

Advertisement

32

32 SHARE

Ella Walton

ARTICLES: 57

You might also like

Celebrate 'First Day Hikes' with Alabama State Parks

 Pat Byington

3 facts to know about Alabama's unique Pinhoti Trail [MAPS]

 Cindy Hatcher

Walk for Peace monks traveling through Montgomery: See their itinerary

 Mary Helene Hall

The Bama Buzz

Advertisement

Advertisement

Advertisement

A Rushing Waters Media Company

All content on this site is Copyright © Rushing Waters Media LLC/The Bama Buzz 2020-2025. All Rights Reserved.

Privacy Policy

